Bart's Got a Brand New Bag

In April 2014, the City of Lynchburg launched a new trash system. The new system eliminated the trash tags and replaced it with specially marked pre-paid trash bags. The new 33-gallon blue bags are available for purchase at most grocery and convenience stores in packages of five (5) for $6.25.

The new system still allows residents to control their trash disposal cost. The most convenient method is to purchase an annual decal. The annual decal may be purchased for $40 for a 32-gallon cart or $80 for a 64-gallon cart from the Billings and Collections Division located in City Hall or online at www.lynchburgva.gov/citylink. These amounts are pro-rated (reduced) throughout the year. Residents using an annual decal will only need to use a pre-paid blue bag if they have more trash than can be placed in the cart. Individuals and families who recycle may further reduce their trash disposal costs.

Service Fee Implemented

It's only fair that everyone follow the rules. Not following them can be costly. If you don't use a trash decal or the specially-marked prepaid bags, you will be subject to a $25 service fee. If not corrected, and the violation continues, additional service fees may be added. For more information, visit www.lynchburgva.gov/bartsbag or call (434) 455-4450.

Teacher Of The Year

Hutcherson Early Learning Program's Gerin Martin has been named the Lynchburg City Schools Teacher of the Year. Ms. Martin is a special education and pre-Kindergarten teacher, but her instruction goes far beyond the walls of the Hutcherson classrooms. Ms. Martin has been vital in the establishment of inclusive placements for preschoolers. She serves on many school- and division-wide committees. She is the coordinator of the highly successful community playgroups held twice each week and open to all pre-school aged children in the community.

While early childhood education has been inching its way into the forefront of many professional discussions, it has been the focus of Ms. Martin's professional platform for the past 19 years. She compares her teaching philosophy to the construction of two buildings: "One structure, built on a foundation created with quality products and craftsmanship. The other, built on a foundation with substandard products and haphazard craftsmanship." She bases her career on the firm belief that "Quality early childhood experiences lay the foundation for future school achievement."
