Press Release

June 16, 2016

James Crossing, LPD Community Cookout

On Friday, 06/17/2016 from 1PM to 3PM the Lynchburg Police Department will be hosting a Cook Out event at the James Crossing Apartment Complex. This event is being supported by the Lynchburg Fire Department, James Crossing Management, Community Faith Watch Group, Region 2000 Workforce Center, F&L Market and Living Word Ministries. Without their support this event would not be possible.

Police, Fire, and local Pastors will be working together to provide hotdogs and fun activities for the children who live in James Crossing. Everyone involved will also utilize this opportunity to provide information to parents and children about local services, camps, and leagues available to the children this summer. There will also be several representatives from the Region 2000 Workforce Center in attendance to provide information on available job opportunities in the Lynchburg area.

This event was coordinated by Senior Specialist Officer Jonathan Bragg and the Community Action Team. We expect this event to be a fun and educational time for everyone involved and a great opportunity to provide positive encounters with police and build relationships with the community we serve. Any and all support in promoting this endeavor will be greatly appreciated and we invite all of the local youth and their parents in that area to attend.
